Organized by: Department of Marathi & Department of Sociology

1. Title of the Activity:

Film Screening – Jogwa

2. Date and Time:

25 January 2025

Morning 8:00 AM

4. Objectives of the Activity:

To celebrate Marathi Language Fortnight through cinema.

To provide students with an understanding of social and cultural aspects through Marathi films.

To encourage critical thinking on gender issues, traditions, and religious practices in society.

5. Description of the Activity:

On the occasion of Marathi Language Fortnight, the Department of Marathi and Department of Sociology organized a screening of the National Award-winning film Jogwa.

The program began with an introduction by the faculty, highlighting the film's background, its cultural importance, and its relevance to sociology. After the screening, an interactive discussion was conducted where students actively participated.

During the discussion, students reflected on themes such as superstition, gender discrimination, and the impact of traditional practices on society.

6. Participants:

Students from the Department of Marathi and Sociology

Faculty members

Marathi Language Fortnight Committee Members

7. Outcomes of the Activity:

Students developed an understanding of gender issues, cultural practices, and social problems through the film.

The post-screening discussion enhanced critical and analytical thinking among students.

The activity encouraged appreciation of meaningful Marathi cinema.

8. Feedback:

Students and teachers appreciated the initiative. They suggested that such educational and cultural film screenings should be organized more frequently.

9. Coordinators:

Department of Marathi & Department of Sociology

Padmabhushan Vasantodada Patil Mahavidyalaya, Kavathe Mahankal

Conclusion:

The film screening of Jogwa, organized on the occasion of Marathi Language Fortnight, was highly successful. The program combined entertainment with education, providing students with both cultural enrichment and sociological insights.
