Title	Guest Lecture on 'Contemporary Political Theory: Globalization, Identity Politics, and Emerging Challenges'.
Day &amp; Date	Monday, 05, January 2026
Organizer	Padmabhushan Vasantodada Patil Mahavidyalaya, Kavathe Mahankal. The Department of Political Science
Co-ordinator	Mr. N. S. Waghmare Co-ordinator, Department of Political Science.
Background	As part of the academic curriculum, the Department of Political Science organized a guest lecture on 'Contemporary Political Theory: Globalization, Identity Politics, and Emerging Challenges.' The lecture aimed to introduce students to the evolving nature of political theory in the context of rapid global changes. Contemporary political theory goes beyond traditional frameworks and addresses issues such as globalization, identity-based movements, cultural diversity, and emerging socio-political challenges. The session was designed to provide students with a broader understanding of how political ideas respond to changing global realities.
Objective	To familiarize students with key concepts in contemporary political theory. To understand the impact of globalization on political systems and governance. To analyze the role of identity politics in shaping modern political discourse. To examine emerging challenges such as inequality, migration, cultural conflicts, and democratic transformations. To enhance critical thinking and analytical skills among students.
Conclusion	The guest lecture proved to be an insightful and intellectually enriching experience for the students. The resource person explained complex concepts in a simple and engaging manner, enabling students to grasp the significance of globalization and identity politics in today's world. The session also highlighted various emerging challenges faced by modern democracies, encouraging students to think critically about contemporary political issues. Overall, the activity successfully bridged the gap between theoretical knowledge and current political realities. It contributed to the academic development of students by broadening their perspectives and strengthening their understanding of contemporary political processes.
