Field Visit Report on Sugarcane Workers

15 January 2021

Location: Kiran Suryavanshi Farm, Zurevadi Village

Introduction:

The Department of Sociology conducted a field visit to study the living and working conditions of sugarcane workers on 10/01/2021. The purpose of this visit was to gain firsthand insights into the daily lives of these workers, understand the socio-economic challenges they face, and explore potential areas of intervention for improvement.

The objective of the Field Visit:

- 1. To observe the working conditions in sugarcane fields.
- 2. To understand the socio-economic background of sugarcane workers.
- 3. To assess the living conditions and access to basic amenities.

Field Visit Details:

The field visit team, comprised of Mrs Sapna Pawar, departed from the college campus on 10 Jan 2021. Upon reaching the designated location, we were able to engage with sugarcane workers and community members to gather information through interviews, observations, and discussions.

Observations:

1. Working Conditions:

- The sugarcane fields presented challenging working conditions, with workers exposed to long hours of labour under the sun.
- Discussions with workers highlighted concerns related to occupational health and safety, including the use of protective gear and access to medical facilities.

2. Socio-economic Background:

- The majority of sugarcane workers belong to economically disadvantaged backgrounds, with limited access to education and healthcare.
- Many workers are part of migrant communities, moving from one location to another based on the sugarcane harvesting seasons.

3. Living Conditions:

- Housing facilities for sugarcane workers were basic and lacked essential amenities.
- Limited access to clean water and sanitation facilities was a notable challenge in the community.

Challenges Identified:

1. Health and Safety: The need for improved occupational health and safety measures for sugarcane workers.
2. Education and Skill Development: Limited access to education and skills development opportunities for workers and their families.
3. Basic Amenities: Inadequate housing conditions and the need for better access to clean water and sanitation facilities.

Recommendations:

1. Health and Safety Measures: Advocate for the implementation of proper health and safety measures in sugarcane fields, including the provision of protective gear and regular medical check-ups.
2. Educational Initiatives: Collaborate with local authorities and NGOs to develop educational programs for the children of sugarcane workers, focusing on increasing literacy rates and providing skill development opportunities.
3. Community Development: Work towards improving living conditions by advocating for better housing facilities and access to clean water and sanitation.

Conclusion:

The field visit provided valuable insights into the challenges faced by sugarcane workers and their communities. The Department of Sociology aims to use this information to develop and implement initiatives that contribute to the well-being and empowerment of sugarcane workers in collaboration with relevant stakeholders. This visit gave students practical exposure and firsthand experience in understanding societal structures, cultural dynamics, and various socio-economic factors.

Acknowledgements:

We extend our gratitude to the sugarcane workers and the local community for their cooperation and openness during the field visit.
